

Dear W.C.,

I am a senior citizen and ashamed to admit I can't pay my rent or utilities. I have worked my whole life and I had a small savings. First my son was sick and I cared for him until he passes. Then I began to have health problems and my savings was gone like that. I looked forward to my retirement and thought I could get by with social security. Now they are talking about cutting that back too. How do they expect senior citizens to survive? I have no family left to help me. My husband died many years ago and my son has been gone for five years.
